Kraddy – Android Porn Remixes

Without a doubt, "Android Porn" by Kraddy (founding member of The Glitch Mob) is an exceptional track and one of the true anthems for a kind of new music called "Glitch Hop". Upon its release, the original version grabbed the attention of producers and fans alike and immediately climbed both sales and dj charts. It is now time to bring in some new flavour to this amazing tune on a 5 track remix EP on Equinox Records.

First off, Daly City's beatmaking genius Mochipet drops his monstrous "godzillaporn" version. A pushing, glitched out masterpiece with distorted synths that definitely needs to get bumped as loud as the original. Then, there is Fulgeance (of Musique Large fame) providing a brand new, even more danceable feeling to the track. The striking bass, chopped synths and wonky beats will give you the ultimate thrill. Next up, aspiring producer Playpad Circus' version is probably the most suspenseful one. The arrangement builds up bit by bit, constantly evolving, keeping you begging for more until, finally, the synths, additional guitars and drums come in, punching right in your face. Still need more? Si Begg from London, lately been working on projects for different labels such as Mutate, Noodles or Big Dada, drops the most brutal, heavy and aggressive remix on this EP. Absolutely no compromise – just pure glitched madness! Again, play this one as LOUD as possible! Last, but definitely not least, Geste from Paris presents even more bass and synth weirdness in his unique and distinctive style he already offered us on his Jaw Breaker 12"

The EP is a strong collection of tracks that compliment each other. Each remix stands on their own as well and will blow minds on dancefloors across the globe. So, what more can you ask for? - Definitely one of the first must-have-releases in 2010!

PLEASE NOTE: Vinyl version additionally includes the original version of Android Porn, but not all remixes. Furthermore, the Si Begg remix will soon be featured on another release (vinyl & digital) along with an awesome rap version featuring K-The-I??? (of Mush, Big Dada).

About Kraddy:

After deciding to part ways with the Glitch Mob, Kraddy continues to trail-blaze as a composer and a DJ in the US and abroad. A dancefloor messiah to both booty shakers and trainspotters, Kraddy is known worldwide for his distinctive style. His sets are a futuristic fusion of dubstep, hip hop, and dancehall - all laced with Kraddy's signature style of edits and remixes that make his sound so unique. Like the skaters and surfers from his home in Venice Beach, Kraddy will unapologetically blow your mind with his skill, style and his no prisoners attitude.
